Two men drown at locks while fishing

POLICE and residents watch as Detective John Carney searched for the bodies of two men drowned at Hurricane Gate 4 in the New River Canal, Monday, Sept. 17.

By TOM KISKEN

SOUTH BAY—The lone survivor of the fishing accident in which two South Bay men drowned Monday, Sept. 24, credits the rescue efforts of a pair of bystanders as the only reason he's alive today.

"I thank the good Lord I'm alive," said Frank Henderson, 69, of 295 S.W. 12th St., South Bay. "Without the help of those boys, I tell you, I wouldn't be here."

Henderson said Orlando Williams, of 1309 S.W. Ave. E, Belle Glade, and William Shaw, of 100 N.W. Fifth Street, Belle Glade, used a bait bucket and a rope to fish him out of the New River Canal at Hurricane Gate 4, just east of South Bay.

With Henderson safely on land and watching the proceedings, Belle Glade Police Detective John Carney dived repeatedly into the canal and recovered the bodies of Eddie Clark, 34, of 215 N.W. 11th Ave., and Willie B. Johnson, 64, of 135 S.W. Sixth.

The three men, Henderson said, were fishing in a small aluminum boat directly in front of the locks at Hurricane Gate 4, in a posted no fishing area, late Monday afternoon. Henderson said the combination of the current and the water flowing through the lock wrenched the boat out of control. "It was just spinning around and around," he said.

Sheriff's Detective Rick Radford said that although the locks were closed, enough water was still flowing through to cause problems.

Henderson said that when he was thrown over, he was holding onto the boat paddle. He said he struck bottom, but with the help of the paddle was able to break the water's surface. Williams and Shaw then threw the bait bucket in the water, Henderson said, and dragged him to the wall.

Radford said Clark apparently also broke the water's surface. Williams and Shaw tried unsuccessfully to reach Clark with a fishing pole, he said. Johnson never resurfaced.

Apparently, both Williams and Clark were able to swim. Radford said. Autopsy reports, scheduled to be released Wednesday, Sept. 19, may provide further answers, he said.

Chamber eyes hard times ahead

By LINDA JOHNSON
PAHOKEE—Although the decision not to fund the Chamber of Commerce has reportedly been made by the city council, chamber and council members alike still debate the decision and the value of the chamber.

Right now, according to President Jim Bennett, the Commerce has enough money to pay the salary of the secretary, Marie Borges, for another month. Borges has worked at the Chamber for four months.

Chamber directors are worried that without a secretary to answer phones and run the office, the Chamber might have to close.

"We do not know how we are going to do it yet," said Bennett. "But we intend to stay open."

"Whatever the city does, we're going to have to live with," he said. "We don't want to start a war with the city."

The Pahokee City Council, in budget workshops, have agreed to cut Borges' salary from city expenditures, Bennett said they would know more about the financial status at the next regular meeting.

Some council members see the situation differently. Ada Conley said, "I would hope they can stay open, but I don't see how they can."

Saying that she is a supporter of the chamber, Conley asserted that $10,000 to $12,000 a year for the salary is a lot of money for the chamber raise on their own.

"I can see our point too," said Conley. "It's just a bad situation any way you look at it." Walter Rashley, who is on the board of directors of the Chamber and a council member, thought the cut was necessary. "I don't really like to do it," he said. "But the city is lacking in funds."

Betty McCoy, city clerk, said the city allotted $7,000, over Borges' salary, for the operation of the chamber for this fiscal year. She added that there is still $2,900 left for the chamber's use.

According to McCoy

the chamber can still get the money if they do it before Oct. 1, which is the end of the fiscal year.

Rashley questioned the use of some of the chamber funds last year. "I felt like some of the money was mispent," he said.

Conley said some council members had thought some of the money given to the chamber by the city was for printing up new brochures about Pahokee. Bennett, president of the Chamber, said money was given to them, but he thought it was to be used as the chamber saw fit.

Debbie Palmer, Pahokee deputy clerk, said after checking records, money was not given to the chamber specifically for brochures.

"I feel like a chamber of commerce, if run properly, is a valuable thing to a city," said Conley.

"I'd say we are doing an outstanding job considering the support we are getting," said Bennett. "We are just now getting on our feet," he added.

Last year was the first time the city paid Borges' salary.

Conley said the chamber is the only public relations the city has.

"If there is ever to be any business attracted here," she added, "It has to be through the chamber."

Rashley, on the other hand, did not think the chamber attracted that much new business. "A lot of smaller towns do not have a chamber and they are growing," he said.

He said the chamber should be able to stay open at least part time. He added it would take more direct involvement from the directors, however.

Bennett said the chamber was planning a membership drive this year to help increase their revenues.

CD pact OK'd

BELLE GLADE—City commissioners approved a pact in a special meeting Monday, Sept. 17, which officials say could bring up to $1 million in federal grant monies to Belle Glade next year.

City Planning and Community Development Director Remar Harvin said Housing and Urban Development would provide about $400,000 in street improvements and ad-

All teams eye home games

The name of the game this weekend in the Glades is football as all four area high school teams eye home games.

Pahokee High School officials have changed the day of their game from Friday to Saturday, Sept. 22. The Blue Devils will kick off against Suncoast at 8 p.m.

Glades Central will host Palm Beach Gardens Friday, Sept. 21 at 8 p.m. Glades Day School will face St. John Neumann at home Friday, beginning at 8 p.m.

Christian Day School will play Westminster Academy at 2 p.m. at Six-Mile Bend stadium on Saturday.

PAT BERRYHILL was presented with a plaque in memory of her husband, Lee Berryhill, by members of the Southwestern Palm Beach County Public Hospital Board. Berryhill, who was killed April 25 in a car accident, served on the hospital board for 24 years. Also pictured in Monday's ceremonies is Don Tanner, of the hospital board.

GCI inmate killed

SB to allow alcohol takeouts

SOUTH BAY—Businesses bordering SR 80 may soon be able to sell takeout alcohol, according to a proposal approved in principle by South Bay city commissioners Tuesday, Sept. 18.

Commissioners directed Attorney Thomas Montgomery to draw up an ordinance repealing the law which currently prohibits new businesses from selling alcohol within 150 feet of SR 80, stretching from Northwest New River Canal to the railroad tracks. Commissioners Willie Marshall, Vernita Cox and Don Tanner all voted in favor of the motion and Clarence Anthony abstained. Commissioner Refugio Garcia was absent.

Commissioner Don Tanner said the proposal is designed to allow relatively new convenience stores and bait shops in the area to sell takeout alcohol. Bars would still be prohibited under the new ordinance, he said. The Last Chance Saloon would be permitted to sell alcohol under the grandfather clause.

Commissioner Willie Marshall said the new law represents one of many ways commissioners are trying to promote growth. "The city is growing and we have to change with that growth," he said.

Both Marshall and Tanner stressed that under the new ordinance, the sale of alcohol would still be prohibited within 250 feet of any school or playground.

Also commissioners endorsed the changing of the name of Palm Beach Road to Martin Luther King Jr. Road. Mayor Cox suggested commissioners propose the change to the county in honor of the upcoming Martin Luther King Jr. Day.

"He is a role model and we don't have many role models in this little town," Cox said.

ministrative costs under the agreement with county Community Development. An unspecified amount of funds would be available for housing needs.

Overall the city is looking for anywhere from $500,000 to $1 million, Harvin said.

County commissioners are scheduled to vote on the agreement Tuesday, Sept. 25. Harvin said the chances of approval should increase significantly, if the proposed pact passes the county's legal review.

The agreement outlines the specifics of the city's obligations with the grant money for one year. Earlier, commissioners approved an interlocal agreement which, if approved by the county, would bind the city to the block grant program for three years.

The city's current three-year agreement with CD expires this December. Harvin noted the CD funds have brought many significant changes to the city. Just this year over $400,000 will be spent in CD funds, most of it on street and housing improvements.

"This has been a banner year for Community Development and for housing in Belle Glade and this would be a really bad time, in my estimation to abandon the program," Harvin told commissioners Monday.

Attorney John Baker warned commissioners that under the proposed pact, no monies can be spent without the prior written consent of Community Development. If the county follows the pact to the letter, city officials would have to make a written request for every single office supply purchased, Baker said.

"What I am concerned about is our administrative costs that are ongoing expenditures that haven't been approved..." he said.

Mayor Thomas Altman proposed the city present the county with an itemized budget for the grant monies if possible and get all expenditures approved at once. If the county refuses an itemized budget, the city will have to adjust the situation, he said. "If someone wants to sit over there and approve orders for pencils then we'll just have to live with it."

Harvin told commissioners that while the agreement was quite stringent, his department could live with it. He expressed confidence that the requirements could be relaxed somewhat as the city and new CD administrators develop a working relationship.

Glades Health Care Center opens

By LINDA JOHNSON

PAHOKEE—The Glades Health Care Center opened its doors for business this week, admitting one patient at 11 a.m. Monday morning, Sept. 17, just a month and a half behind schedule.

Vern Holmes, administrator of the new nursing home, said he originally wanted to open the nursing home in July, but state inspections slowed down the opening somewhat.

Right now, the home can only take in residents that can pay for the care themselves. Holmes said he hopes the home will have Medicare approval this week. The approval will allow patients on Medicare to enter the home as well.

"We do not foresee and problems," said Holmes. After the center gets the Medicare approval, the staff can start admitting the 40 patients on the waiting list. He said the only thing holding the approval up was paperwork.

After the approval comes through, Amanda Kohr, the bookkeeper, said the center could only take in about three residents a day, four days a week.

"There is a lot to admitting someone," she said. The nursing home has two wings of 60 beds each.

Holmes said the closest nursing homes are in Clewiston and West Palm Beach. "There are a lot of people who have had to place family members in homes a long distance away," he said. Now that the center be closer for glades residents, he added, but it will also create a lot of local jobs.

Holmes estimated the nursing home would employ 80 full-time staff members when they reach full capacity.

Holmes has hired a full time activities director and said the home plans on having two events a day for the residents.

Man arrested for Time Saver robbery

BELLE GLADE—A local man was charged with robbing Time Saver Store 3, 15 W. Canal St. N., Saturday night, Sept. 15.

Roy Lee Watson, 27, of 423 S.W. Ave. B, No. 30, was arrested for grand theft and robbery. Detective Albert Dowdell said Watson was picked up at a local tavern by Dowdell.

Arson charge levied

BELLE GLADE—Police charged two men this week with burning a house in the Osceola Center on Monday, Sept. 10.

Detective John Carney reported that on Sunday, Sept. 16 he arrested Mario Rodriguez, 21, of House 79, Osceola Center, and Neezio Mata, 20, of 654 S.W. Second St., Belle Glade, with arson and residential burglary.

The men were arrested in connection with the early morning fire of Sept. 10 which gutted House 10 in the Osceola Center, owned by Frank Camargo.

The investigation was conducted jointly by the Belle Glade Police Department, the Belle Glade Fire Department and the State Fire Marshall's office.

chance with Tanner abstaining. Tanner said he was not opposing the issue because of race, but was simply not in favor of changing names of any of the city's streets. The proposal will now go before the county commission.

Also, Cox told commissioners she would like to approach the county community development department about funding the construction of apartment buildings for senior citizens in South Bay. Cox said she would investigate the idea further with City Manager Lomax Harrelle.

Weeks elected chamber pres.

BELLE GLADE - Steve Weeks will serve as president of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce during the 1984-85 year.

Week's appointment was approved by chamber directors Thursday, Sept. 13. He will succeed current president Israel Pate, whose term ends with the annual banquet Thursday, Oct. 18.

Other new members of the executive committee, approved at Thursday's meeting, include: John Pitts, first vice president; Craig Pate, second vice president; and Jeanette Meredith, treasurer. Both Pitts, currently second vice president, and Meredith, currently treasurer, are returning members of the executive committee.

Baez and Bob Roessler, first vice president, are the only outgoing officers.

Weeks, a salesman with Seminole Supply, said he was looking forward to the challenge of directing the chamber's progress.

"I would think a good chamber would make itself available to local businesses and do all it can to promote the area," Weeks said. "I also think a chamber should create a good foothold for businesses new to the area."

The chamber's most immediate concern is lack of money. Weeks said new fund raising projects hopefully will deliver the chamber from its unenviable position.

Despite its financial problems, Weeks said the chamber does provide a needed and valuable service to the community. As president, he said, he hopes to keep the chamber moving in its present direction.

Former chairman of the Black Gold committee, Weeks is district chairman for the Boy Scouts, an officer with the First Baptist Church, a director with Glades Association of Retarded Citizens and a member of the Kiwanis Club. Weeks has served as a chamber director for two years.

Also at Thursday's meeting, directors approved the appointment of four new directors, who will begin three year terms immediately after the annual banquet. New directors are: Sonny Stein, Stein's Farms; Gene Challancin, Florida Federal Savings and Loans; Gerald Lohmann, of the W.O. Daley Company; and Ed Rongione, of Lockhart Ford. 12

Nachman will serve as alternate.

Outgoing directors are James Herring Jr., Roessler, Baez and Douglas Lockhart.

Directors announced at Thursday's meeting that tickets for the annual banquet will be sold for $17.50 and can be purchased at the chamber or from any director. The banquet will be held at the Elks Club, Thursday, Oct. 18, beginning at 5 p.m. State Sen. Harry Johnston is scheduled to be the featured speaker. Bob Lee, of U.S. Sugar, will be the master of ceremonies.

Square dance set

PAHOKEE - The First Methodist Church of Pahokee will be sponsoring a square dance, Sunday, Sept. 23 beginning at 6 p.m.

A pot luck salad and sandwich supper will be served and a nursery will be provided.

A professional caller from Jupiter will call the square dance. The event is open to the public.

Chamber sponsors millionaires game

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce hopes to give all city residents a chance to earn 'millionaire' status.

Chamber directors voted Thursday, Sept. 13, to approve a deal with Henco Inc., of Tennessee, which should bring a localized version of the "Millionaires" board game into the city.

Ben Godfrey, of Henco, told directors they should be able to sell at least 500 games throughout the city, which would amass an estimated profit of about $4,500. Additional money would come with subsequent printings of the game, he said.

In the game, players try to achieve millionaire status by selling and obtaining property as they make their way around board spaces, which bear the names of local businesses.

Directors agreed Friday to begin soliciting businesses for the ads. Godfrey said single spaces are usually sold for about $100 apiece with the four corners being sold for $280 each.

Once enough ads are sold to fill the game board, the chamber must order at least 300 games from Henco at $7 apiece. Godfrey said most chambers have been retailing the games at $12 apiece. Henco also charges a $2,000 set-up fee for the board.

Godfrey said the Clewiston Chamber of Commerce and others have raised needed funds through the Millionaires program. Not one chamber has been forced to quit the program, he said.

Chamber directors appointed Craig Pate and Mickey Grindstaff to head a committee which will work on soliciting ads for the game.

Grindstaff said he would ask the Junior Woman's Club and other civic groups to help the chamber sell ads.

Needs of others

From the beginnings of the Judeo-Christian religion its practitioners have had a genuine concern for the needs of others. As the New Testament Church spread out the Apostle Paul sought to teach a broader concept than the Jewish title.

Paul in writing to the Corinthians told of the wonderful experience of the Christians in Macedonia. An offering was being taken throughout the churches for relief of Christians in Jerusalem.

The believers were so motivated by the undeserved favor and forgiveness of God that their giving amazed Paul. He knew the depth of their poverty and the affliction they were suffering.

Out of the extreme poverty came a wealth of liberality and in spite of the physical pain, these Christians expressed abundant joy.

A visit by E.A. McCabe to the communist countries, including Russia, prompted McCabe to say "Russia, including East Berlin is one big prison".

The Macedonians did not consider giving a duty but a privilege. The result was generous, spontaneous, and joyful sacrificial giving. This kind of giving is experienced only when we are concerned more about the needs of others than we are about our own. This comes when we are truly moved by God's love in Christ.

The Corinthians were rich in faith, speech, and knowledge, so Paul was trying to develop a full-rounded Christian character by helping them to do as the Macedonians did. The secret was self dedication or giving of self. They caught this spirit from Christ. Before any consideration was given to an offering these committed believers gave themselves to the Lord.

The basis of liberal giving is the consecration of one's whole life to the service of God. This action proves the sincerity of your love. Paul had risen above the legalistic tithing of the Jewish religion to offering of one's entire life in faith and active devotion to God. Giving now was for him spontaneous outpouring in response to God's love.

The dedicated Christians at Macedonia begged for the joy of giving and gave with lavish open hands. They would not have bargained about their liberality, for they knew this was a gift of God's grace.

Jesus said giving was a matter between God and man. Show your response to His love by giving as it has been given to you.

SEPTEMBER 19, 1974

John B. Boy, president of United States Sugar Corporation, announced that the Board of Directors named Robert C. Lee vice president of community affairs, a newly created position.

South Bay City Commission, through a split decision, agreed 3-2 to advertise for a city manager.

Newly elected Commissioner Don Tanner, who made the motion, said later he included a deadline of Oct. 1, because "I feel we desperately need a city manager. I only have two years to get a lot done."

Historical perspective

Editor's note: the following is the fifth in a series recounting the early Glades experiences of Steven Augustus "Gus" Roberts and family.

As Told By BETTY ROBERTS BOWEN
To RUTH IRVIN

Five years after the Taylor Creek Massacre in 1837 an expedition of army and navy men set out from Ft. Lauderdale in February 1842 to hunt the alligators in the Everglades. Lieutenant George Preble was in charge of one group. He noted in a detailed report that the men camped close by Ft. McRay, a cabbage tree lot fortress, which must have been located near the opening of where the St. Lucie Canal was being dug. He launched his canoes on the lake through a rough surf and heavy swell on the morning of February 23, 1842. A canoe swamped, capsized, and its contents of provisions, arms, clothing, and ammunition were lost in the lake.

It seems reasonable to believe that Daddy and his friends brought up some of the items from Lt. Preble's canoe which had been lost in the lake some 75 years before.

The state had contracted out many dredging jobs during or following the digging of the North New River Canal. The Miami Canal and the Palm Beach Canal from Okeechobee to West Palm Beach were other canals dug in addition to the Hillsboro. The canal from Twenty Mile Bend was dug to the Hillsboro, linking the Belle Glade area to the coast. The canals helped open the sites of Belle Glade, Pahokee and Canal point to settlement and development. Many secondary canals were dug in the intervening years. There were always plenty of dredging jobs for Daddy.

The Cape Sable Job

W. Scott Holloway got a contract in 1922 with a Model Land Company to dig a canal in the isolated Cape Sable area on the southern tip of Florida. The job started in January 1922 about 40 miles from Homestead and ended up on the Gulf at Cape Sable. This was to finish and it lasted seven months.

Letters

Editor,

Everyone knows the Boy Scouts of America is a remarkable organization. From its conception its goal was to take young men, teach them the skills necessary for survival under difficult situations, drill them so they need to be absolutely prepared both mentally and physically in all situations, and place them in an arena where they can practice these skills safely. The scouting experience encourages a boy to grow in confidence and achievement. The result should be a leader... a young man who can take care of himself and others... someone who can pass on when the "Big Test" comes.

Never was that goal more accurately achieved than in Belle Glade where the Labor Day weekend when troop 622 went out for a routine campout behind the Experiment Station. Mr. Billy Schoenfeld and Mr. Frank Kimbro had seen that the boys had done the usual extensive preparation. All was well when 18 Boy Scouts bedded down in their tents for the night. But Billy Schoenfeld does more than just preach "Be Alert" and "Be Prepared"; he practices it too. When the wind came up he was outside looking at the sky. As conditions worsened, Frank Kimbro and the "Leadership" scouts Lee Mikell and Daren Schoenfeld were up arousing other scouts and sending them "Be Alert" and "Be Prepared".

The youths responded quickly because that's the way they had been trained and they had confidence in the chain of command.

A while later, those of us who are their parents received a knock at our door in the early hours of the morning. Soaking wet but filled with excitement, most of the boys came home. He and the other scouts had a story to tell and retell in classes, church fellowships, and gatherings for the rest of their lives. A tornado had struck the camp. Tents and possessions were scattered but no real damage was done.

I feel so grateful! How often a story that began just as innocent as this one ended in tragedy. The knock at the door in the early morning could have been devastating.

There are people who can be trusted with life, most precious charges... our sons. Bill Schoenfeld is one of them. Frank Kimbro is another. Because Billy, you are who and what you are all is safe and the Scouts of troop 622 have a thrilling adventure to remember.

I'm so glad my son is a Boy Scout and I'm so grateful, Billy.

What else is there to say!

Charlida C. Sizemore

Editor,

I very much appreciate the discreet way you and your staff handled the stabbing incident at my home Aug. 28.

I am so happy to know that there is one news paper that cares enough to eliminate some damaging (deliberate) details. This might not have been done intentionally by you but it was done and I am very pleased with it.

Thanks for protecting my family especially my daughter as much as possible.

Elsie L. Thomas

Hamp brought many of the crewmen who had worked on the Saint Lucie Canal job with him. The crew worked three shifts. Hamp and Daddy were star performers and near the end Hamp left and Daddy brought the job to completion. Lawrence Will worked on this job also and he left a vivid account of the project in his book, "A Dredgeman of Cape Sable".

The American Steel Dredge they used was old and rusty. It took a lot of work to get it going. They had to dig through desolate swamps and a sludgy, swampy prairie. The mosquitoes were vicious all the time and the crew members were beset with all kinds of problems - sinkings, explosions, mechanical failures, poor drinking water, cold, rain, minor injuries, burns, sores, and boils. No doubt Hamp's and Daddy's long experience, expertise, and mechanical abilities helped get through this difficult job.

Daddy's foreman and helper, Hubie Borse, worked with him. Lawrence Will tells how he persuaded Daddy to let him work the crane one night when Hubie was ailing. After an unsuccessful start on Lawrence's part something happened which broke the crane and the engine that ran the electric generator. This caused the engine to run wild, burning out all the lights. Daddy had a heck of a time to close off the valve without getting too badly burned. He and Lawrence worked the next three and a half hours repairing the damage, by the light of a lantern.

It was during this job that Lawrence taught Daddy the second degree of the Masonic Order. Daddy had already taken the first degree in the Masonic fraternity in Miami. They climbed up the side of the giant dredge and sat astride the rock, evening after evening, to get away from mosquitoes and eavesdroppers. There they worked away as Daddy memorized his lines perfectly. He took the second degree sometime later. Mother became a member of the Eastern Star and Masonry remained of great interest to them as it did to many of their friends in Belle Glade, in the early days.

Captain Hamp left shortly before the end of the Cape Sable job to marry Lillie Adams and go on a honeymoon in Georgia in his new Buick. Daddy had to assume full responsibility to keep the job going and finish up. This didn't please him one bit as he labored to repair breakdowns or keep the old dredge from sinking. He took the air blue with protests as he thought of Hamp's desertion.

The job was finally finished as Daddy took the old dredge through the final ridge into the Gulf of Mexico. He took the dredge back on a turn of the tide and after one last mishap he finally dug a cut for the dredge to come to rest. The men set out for a return to civilization. Houseboats, launches, and barges were strung out in a line and with Daddy as pilot. A triumphant way was made through tricky channels and the shoals and islands of Florida. They climbed up the side of the giant dredge and sat astride the rock, evening after evening, to get away from mosquitoes and eavesdroppers. There they worked away as Daddy memorized his lines perfectly. He took the second degree sometime later. Mother became a member of the Eastern Star and Masonry remained of great interest to them as it did to many of their friends in Belle Glade, in the early days.

Daddy was paid $135. a month on the job and near the end it was whispered by the crew that he was making $143.50 a mile. He might have been well paid but his courtship of Winnie Dear had been at a complete stand still for seven months. She was teaching school in Charlotte Harbor in 1922. He took up his courtship again on his return to civilization. They were married July 30, 1924.

Weekend fun set to aid CF

BELLE GLADE Dances, barbecues and a fishing tournament are all part of the activities planned for the weekend starting Sept. 28 to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CF).

Local businessmen and the Florida Chapter of the CF Foundation are joining together for three days of activities to raise funds for the chapter.

According to a news release from the foundation, cystic fibrosis is the leading genetic killer of American children today.

Events will kick off Friday, Sept. 28 when a Bass Buster's Bash will start at 8 p.m. at the Belle Glade Motor Inn, SR 80, Belle Glade, in the No Name Saloon.

According to special events coordinator Marion Chaffee, the bash will include a dance contest, prizes and special drinks. Ray Black and the Blackwater Band will perform.

A barbecued chicken dinner will be served at 3 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 29 at the Belle Glade Marina. Tickets are $7 and can be purchased at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, Slim's Fish Camp, the Belle Glade Country Club or the Belle Glade Motor Inn.

The $7 ticket will also make participants eligible to attend the dance starting at 8 p.m. at the Belle Glade Country Club. The Lonnie Jolson Band will perform.

On Sunday the CF Bass Buster Buddy tournament will start at Slim's Fish Camp on Lake Okechobee. The grand prize is $50,000 for any lucky participant who catches "Buster," a tagged large mouth bass.

According to Chaffee, a representative of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission will release "Buster" sometime in the week prior to the tournament.

Chaffee said prizes will be paid to the participant with the largest bass and local businesses have donated gifts for all the fishermen.

The tournament cost is $200 for each two-person team. Chaffee said some people might find it hard to put up tickets can pick up the $200. She suggested participants get Belle Glade Chamber sponsored for the tour-of-commerce, the Belle Glade Chamber Motor Inn, the cost. The cost is tax Slim's Fish Camp or deductible, she added.

Pahokee Devils triumph at home

By TOM KISKEN

PAHOKEE—Big plays translated into a big home victory for the Pahokee High School football team, 34-10 over Pope John Paul Friday, Sept. 14.

Four of the Blue Devils' five touchdowns came from at least 25 yards out, as they roared to victory. Virtually all of Pahokee's 239 total yards came on big plays, as the team allied only nine first downs.

Roderick Baldwin, Pahokee's junior halfback, set the stage for the game on the Blue Devils' second offensive play with a 70-yard touchdown run. The team scored again on its second possession as Venton Oliver busted across with a four yard touchdown plunge.

Split end Donald Edwards made the most of his game time with two breakaway touchdowns. Edwards broke loose early in the second quarter with a 47-yard punt return. After Pope John Paul tallied 10 points in the third quarter, Edwards came back with a 55-yard gallop early in the fourth quarter after recovering a fumble from quarterback Pernille McKelton.

McKelton and Kenny Berry connected on a 25-yard scoring strike late in the final stanza to wrap up the scoring.

Coach Don Thompson said the one-sided victory was especially important coming off a one-point heart-breaking loss to Glades Central.

"That's just what we needed," he said, adding wryly, "Now, I feel safe again going out in the community."

While the team still has much to learn, Friday's performance was a big improvement, Thompson said. "Our team effort was good and healthy."

Concerned with mental errors, Thompson said, the team utilized a simplified offense relying on just three basic plays: up the middle, off tackle and sweep. The new strategy allowed players to execute much more effectively.

Thompson said, adding he would add to the offense as the season progressed.

One of several key players for the Blue Devils Friday was sophomore Pernille McKelton forced into his first start at quarterback after injuries grounded Pell Thompson. McKelton's ability to both run and pass kept the Pope John Paul defense off guard.

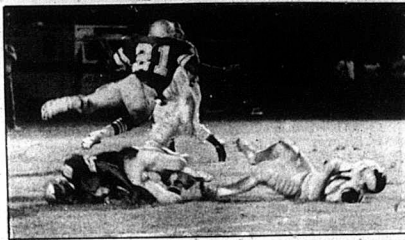

"We really liked what we saw," Thompson said of his new quarterback. "Pernille is elusive, has a strong arm and a real quick release."

McKelton's emergence at quarterback was helped by the performance of senior Kenny Berry. Starter at quarterback in the Glades Central game, Berry shone as a wide receiver Friday night nabbing four catches, including a 25-yard scoring strike.

"I knew Kenny Berry could come through for us as a receiver and boy was it a boost," said Thompson.

The Blue Devil's defensive stinginess really keyed Friday night's victory, Thompson said. "When your defense shuts down the other side, it gives the O a shot."

Noting that four defensive starters sat out the game with victory, the coach said the defense picked up the slack very well. Injured players Alphonso Smith, Pell Thompson, percent Jones and Joe Everett are all expected back this Saturday night in the home game against Suncoast.

PLAYERS and coaches indicate that it's Pahokee's ball after an early fumble in Friday's victory over Pope John Paul.

"They're a great team," Thompson said of Suncoast, which lost its opener by two points to John Leonard. Featuring a balanced running and passing attack, Suncoast is one of the better 2A teams Pahokee will face, Thompson added.

In order to win, Pahokee will have to cut down on its mental errors, Thompson said, pointing to the 175 yards amassed in penalties Friday night.

"We'll also have to play a full game, tough on defense as well as good on offense," he said.

Christian Day Crusaders lose to Boca Academy

BELLE GLADE—The offense has improved since the opening game, but the defense just fell apart in a 33-8 loss against Boca Academy Friday, Sept. 15, said Coach James Jacks of the Christian Day Crusaders.

The Crusaders scored in the first series of plays after the Bulldogs fumbled the opening kickoff. Juan Martin took the ball in on an 18-yard touchdown for the Crusaders. He also scored the 2-point conversion for the teams only touchdown.

"Our team just did not do what they were supposed to do," said Jacks. "The defense got down and the whole team got down from it."

He said Boca is a good team and has a very good quarterback. The Crusader's quarterback, David Chamblee got hurt in the game and played with a bruised and swollen left arm. Jacks said he has not practiced yet this week and will not know if he can play against Westminster until Thursday.

Patrick Chancey missed the game due to an injured shoulder in the first game. Jose Cabrera injured his left knee in the second quarter against the Bulldogs, Friday. Both Chancey and Cabrera should be ready to play against Westminster, Jacks said.

"I didn't feel real good about the game at all," said Jacks. "Hopefully, we can do what we haven't done in the past, next week."

The Bulldogs tied the game up in the first quarter and took the lead for good in the second. A 33 yard pass from quarterback Lott to split end Lyttle in the third quarter and a 19 yard pass to fullback Dave Rattner in the fourth finished the game up for the Bulldogs.

The Crusaders rushed for a total of 97 yards, while the Bulldogs rushed for 293 yards against the Crusader defense.

"The defense just didn't do anything at all," said Coach Jacks. He has higher hopes for this weeks game.

"I still believe we can hold our own if we play the way we are supposed to," he said, adding.

"and if no one gets hurt." The game against Westminster will be Saturday, Sept. 22, at home at 2 p.m.

CUMC plans homecoming

Glades Central loses 9-6 to N.S.

BELLE GLADE -Inexperience and kicking woes spelled a 9-6 overtime defeat for Glades Central at North Shore, Friday, Sept. 14, according to Coach Dan Brown.

"We made a lot of mistakes," Brown said. "As I've said all along we've got a lot of inexperience and our mistakes killed us."

The Raiders, who dropped to 1-1 for the year, saw two kick snags go awry during regulation time, costing the team a field goal and an extra point. In overtime Glades Central's Willis Ford had a 30-yard attempt blocked.

North Shore earned the victory late in the second overtime when Richard Washington kicked a 25-yard field goal.

The battle between the two district rivals turned into a defensive war as neither team scored until the fourth quarter. The Raiders took a 6-0 lead when fullback John Hubbard scored from nine yards out. North Shore stopped Kenny Hammond from converting a bad snap into a two-point conversion.

North Shore scored its only touchdown with about four minutes left in the game, when Pahokee native Rodney Banks found Kevin Humphries with a 38-yard scoring pass. Neither team could score on their first try from the opponent's 20-yard line in overtime and after North Shore stopped the Raider's second attempt, Washington kicked his game winner.

Brown said overall the Raiders showed improvement over their opening season victory over Pahokee. "We played well enough to win," he said.

Defensively, Glades Central excelled, limiting North Shore to only seven first downs and 168 total yards. Brown noted that the defensive 11 is fast becoming the team's strongest, and most consistent asset.

Several defenders played well for the team. Brown said, pointing in particular at Anthony Ware, lineman; Eugene Miller, linebacker; Marty Darisaw, safety; and James Rainey, lineman.

On offense the Raiders showed some improvement, but still have a long way to go, according to Brown. The running game, featuring Hubbard and his 91-yard night, was impressive, he added. Running back Darrell Sanders and center Mike McCatty also helped the ground game.

Senior Wardell Jefferson also had a fine game with five receptions for 73 yards. However, Jefferson was the only Raider receiver to catch a pass. Brown said the team has to find more receiving weapons to work with senior quarterback Kenny Hammond.

While it's always tough to lose a district battle, Brown said, the team has plenty of time for the team to rebound. "The district is still wide open, there's no reason to panic," he said.

The Raiders next game pits them against their former head coach Ben McCoy and his Palm Beach Gardens team. The game is set for 8 p.m. Friday Sept. 21, at Glades Central.

Palm Beach Gardens stands at 1-1 for the season including a victory over highly touted Forest Hill. Brown noted the Palm Beachers are a fine defensive team with a good running offense.

The Raiders, in preparation for Friday's game, are trying to retain an optimistic approach, Brown said. "We want to minimize mistakes, keep our heads up and then things are going to get better."

Fishing Report

Courtesy of Tennessee's Pro Guide Service

Base fishing on Lake Okeechobee has produced record bass for several fishermen this past week.

The Bill Branch Bass Tournament, hosted by Moore Haven Sunday, Sept. 16, was won by David Hill, of West Palm Beach, with over 21 pounds of bass. Second place was taken by Steve Lloyd with over 19 pounds.

Also bringing in big fish from around Kramer Island and west side of Rita were Roger Jenkins with a 10-3 bass, and Ken Baumann with two bass each over 8 pounds. Don Hughes hauled in a trophy bass of 11-3.

With cooler weather approaching, speck fishermen should start getting their gear ready as their fish will be in full swing shortly. Bream and bluegill fishing is improving somewhat with the majority caught on live worms.

As a special announcement, Big Red Bassmasters, of Margate, and Budweiser Beer will hold the First Annual Ghosts and Goblins Open for the benefit of "The Adam Walsh Center" (an organization highly endorsed by this fisherman) to be held Sunday, Oct. 28, out of Everglades Holiday Park in Broward County.

The tourney is open to all bass fishermen, both amateur and professional. For more information contact Evan Swam at (305) 782-8369. Also see next week's fishing report for more details.

This past Monday we saw a tragic accident on the lake involving the deaths of fellow fishermen not observing safety boating rules by ignoring life jackets. I personally saw two new life jackets floating on the water still in their plastic bags immediately following the accident. Perhaps if these fishermen had been wearing these life jackets, they would still be with us today. My condolences are extended to their families.

Until next week, please observe the safe boating rules enacted for everyone's benefit and good luck fishing.

Glades Day upsets Bishop Verot

FORT MYERS—The Glades Day Gators defense held back the strong offensive line of the Bishop Verot Vikings to push last Friday night's game into overtime and come away with a 14-8 victory.

Last year the Gators lost to Bishop Verot in their only regular-season loss so Gator Head Coach Byron Walker, Jr. said last Friday night's game was an important one.

"We had a tough one but we made it," Walker said. "We felt very fortunate to come away with a victory but the job at hand is to prepare for the next one."

The Gators will be fighting it out this Friday, Sept. 21, against St. John's Neumann at 8 p.m. on the Gator's home turf, Walker said. St. John's will run an offense similar to Bishop Verot so the team will have another tough test to beat.

"We're not going to make a great deal of changes in defense," Walker said. "We're going to spend time on execution for the offense. St. John's didn't do so well the first game, but they did better the second time and if they continue to improve we're going to have our hands full."

Walker said the Gators had some trouble making points against the Vikings and he intends to "iron out a few wrinkles" with the offensive line.

"We've got to get the offensive line back on tempo and get our timing back," he said.

"We turned the ball over three times inside the (Vikings) 20 on downs and we can't continue to do that."

When we get down inside the 20 we've got to start scoring points."

Last week's game was preceded by heavy rain and although the game started on time the wet field affected the Gator's play somewhat, Walker said.

"We weren't able to throw the ball as often as we would have like," he said.

Senior tailback Philip Echols wasn't held back by the wet conditions as he scored the team's two touchdowns. During the first play of overtime, Echols ran 10 yards for the winning touchdown. At games end he had 14 attempts with 49 yards.

Jorge Suarez was leading rusher with 10 attempts for 110 yards. In passing, Suarez had 7 attempts and two completions with no interceptions for 34 yards.

Willie Bueno had 8 attempts for 23 yards rushing. Gary Courson had 5 attempts for 48 yards and Mirto Vigoa had 2 attempts for 6 yards.

Derek Korbly had one reception for 19 yards.

Gator volleyball team hopes for aggressive, successful year

BELLE GLADE -Aggressive play is the key to the success of the Glades Day School girl's volleyball team, according to Coach Rita Schoenfeld.

"If we play aggressively, we'll win," she said.

So far, the Gators fortunes have been mixed. The team lost its first two games of the year to Kings Academy and LaBelle, but then came back Thursday, Sept. 13 to down Summit Christian in straight games.

The team has to gain confidence in itself in order to fulfill its potential, Schoenfeld said.

"We have very good potential," she said. "If we can keep everyone healthy, we'll do okay."

Leaders for this year's team include seniors Mary Lynn Thompson and Kay Taylor. "They'll have to provide leadership," Schoenfeld said, adding that one of the team's most important players, Jamie Willis, is injured.

Other varsity players include: Christa Hail, Barbie Dean, Mary Towell, Amy Creech, Yvonne Wovies, Lori Blanchard and Becky Teets.

Sugar cane activity increases

Activity has increased in the sugarcane fields located in the area, according to a news release from the Florida Sugar Cane League.

The planting operations began around the third week of August and will continue through December. A single planting will produce three to five annual harvests. Members of Zeta Amica Sorority are economically. Some fields will be replanted after harvest in this 1984-85 crop.

"Our planting operations are going pretty well," said Moye Bishop, president of Cane Contractors, Inc. of Lake Harbor, a sugarcane planting and harvesting corporation.

"During the week of September 10, we received three inches of rain that held us up a couple of days and now we're trying to get up to full planting capacity," said Bishop.

Fritz Stein, president of Stein Sugar Farms,

Inc. of Belle Glade started planting the third week of August. "All of our field operations except harvesting have heated up. We are finished planting except for successive plantings and have started cultivating."

Joyner to speak to gathering

BELLE GLADE — A potluck luncheon at the home of the Belle Glade Garden Club meeting, the first for the new year, at the home of Nelson and Frances Nelms.

Alene McAllister was hostess, assisted by daughter Frances. The four long tables were decorated with coral vine and green fern intertwined.

Gene Joyner, Palm Beach County Agent for the University of Florida Extension Service, was a special guest and presided at a question and answer session on what to do for sick plants and general care to observe with indoor plants.

Friendship Club to celebrate

PAHOKEE — The Friendship Women's Club of Pahokee will be celebrating their 10th anniversary Sunday, Sept. 23 at 3 p.m. Saint James A.M.E. Church, Pahokee.

Hobo party held at A.L.

BELLE GLADE — The American Legion, Post 20 of Belle Glade is hosting a hobo party, Sunday, Sept. 23 starting at 5 p.m.

Church Elliott with the Sundance Band will provide the music. A $5 donation includes a dinner and entertainment.

Sincere Thanks

The family of the late Darrell "Big Red" Miller would like to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to everyone for their thoughtful gifts shown toward the family in the time of the bereavement at the loss of their loved one.

No words can express how grateful we are. Every act of kindness shown is highly appreciated and will be long remembered.

May God ever bless and keep you.

Sincerely,

The Miller and the Barnes family

Class set to begin

A new cycle of free Creole classes will begin soon at the Glades Central Adult and Community School. The first beginning Creole class has "graduated" to the first-ever advanced class.

Those people who missed the last beginning class can start Tuesday, October 2, from 7 to 9 p.m. Those who have learned the basics of the Creole language can join the advanced class Monday, October 1, from 7 to 9.

Both classes will last for eight weeks and end at the Annex Campus of Glades Central. Sandra haleman, the instructor, is an American nurse who spent three years working in Haiti.

Teachers, students, business people, professionals, human services personnel, and health and personnel who have frequent contact with our Creole-speaking population can participate in these free classes. For more information call the Community School at 996-4950.

He noted that the white fly is prevalent in the area at this time of year as also are spider mites and suggested means of identification and eradication.

Joyner announced his services are available on a regular basis. He is available at the Agriculture building behind Glades County Courthouse at 9:30 a.m., every fourth morning of the month to answer questions or assist Glades residents in any way possible with their landscaping, plant or shrub problems.

He urged that people take advantage of the session on what to do for sick plants and general care to observe with indoor plants.

Class holds '70 reunion

BELLE GLADE — The Lake Shore Junior Senior graduating class of 1970 will be having a special class meeting to discuss plans for a class reunion. The meeting is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 30 at 4 p.m. at the Women's Club of Belle Glade. The class was held at the Lake Shore Club in Ocala, Fla. The anniversary is free and open to the public.

Proceeds from the party will be used for the baskets for the needy at Christmas. The American Legion is providing the party will be used for meat, but each participant is asked to bring a canned vegetable.

Harvin said construction bids of several blocks of sidewalk, to be funded through Palm Beach County Community Development, will be opened Tuesday, Sept. 18. He predicted construction would begin in about six weeks and would be completed in January or February.

New sidewalks set

BELLE GLADE — Belle Glade should be adorned with several new sidewalks sometime early next year, according to Remar Harvin, city planning and community development director.

Harvin said that city and county officials attempted to pick streets where sidewalks were most needed. Safety of elementary age children was probably the number one concern, he said. The paving projects will produce sidewalks leading to both Lake Shore Elementary and Belle Glade Elementary schools.

We want kids to walk on sidewalks, not on streets," Harvin summarized.

The project is being funded through the city's emergency jobs bill with the county which expires this December. Harvin noted the city has set the project underway as soon as possible.

Toward that end, city and county officials met with contractors and other concerned parties, Wednesday, Sept. 12 in a pre-bid meeting. The purpose of the meeting, Harvin said, was to resolve any differences before bids were submitted.

At the meeting, Harvin said, concern was expressed over the proximity of fences to the planned sidewalks. Building Inspector Barry Underwood said homeowners had agreed to remove their fences if necessary. Harvin said the cost to remove the fences and any utility poles would be included in contractor's bids.

Director of Public Safety D. Bill Mathis expressed concern about drainage on Northwest Sixth Street. Engineer Al Roth pointed out that the sidewalks would be slanted toward Lake Shore park in such a way as to alleviate the drainage problem.

Also at the meeting, Harvin requested that all future bid packets be sent out to the Glades so contractors will not have to travel to the coast.
